G.E. Employment Center To Aid Personnel Cutbacks Survey Information Being Tabulated

Following the close of the Hancock County Labor Availability Survey August 9, George K. Guess of the Mississippi Employment Security Council who directed the survey said: "The Labor Survey Team will begin tabulating immediately information collected during the survey. This information, he added, will be compiled and released in the near future with a complete report that will cover every phase of the county. We hope this report will make Hancock County appear attractive to any industry seeking a location.

"At this time, remarked the Director, The Labor Survey Team wishes to thank everyone who participated in the Labor Survey Friday and Saturday. Special thanks go to the county workers who manned the registration places. Those people were:

"Mrs. John Bordage, Mrs. Harold Garcia, Mrs. Thelma Ladner, Kenneth Develle, Mrs. John Wilkerson, Philip M. Alison, Angelina Morreale, Sylvia Largary, Eva Lee Smith, Mrs. Herman Shaw, Namous Ladner, Mrs. Julia Cuevas, Mrs. Oris Ladner, Frank Lee, Mrs. Cleveland Wyatt, Mrs. Claire Mitchell, Amelia Breland, Irma Cuevas, Nita Wilson, and Joyce Maggaree.

"We also appreciate very much the splendid co-operation of managers of the various stores in the shopping centers."

In a later statement Guess pointed out that the Survey Team would take applications from workers who wished to apply for work and give aptitude exercises at the State Employment office in the Agriculture Building in Bay St. Louis. Applications will be accepted Monday, August 18, through Thursday, August 21, from 8:30 A.M. until noon and from 1:30 P.M. until 4:30 P.M.

A special "Career Center" has been set up by the General Electric Co. at the NASA Mississippi Test Facility to bring together representatives of interested area firms and those employees of the GE Management and Technical Services Department who are seeking new employment as a result of decreased NASA requirements at the space testing facility.

William J. Richards, manager of relations for GE-MTSD, said that 13 companies and the Mississippi State Employment Service have responded so far to the Department's invitation to send interviewers and recruiters to the Career Center. Facilities have been made available in the Engineering and Administration Building at MTF, he said.

Richards added that departments and operations of General Electric also have been invited to send representatives to the center beginning Aug. 18 to talk with applicants.

The GE Department, a prime contractor at the NASA facility, announced last week it was being forced to lay off approximately 100 of its employees.

Homemakers Operation Told

by ...

Novillo R. Jacob
Public Relations Officer
Hancock County
Port and Harbor Commission

The County Extension Home Economist wears many hats. Her range of interests spans from Homemakers Club organization and leader training, through 4-H Club work, to the Nutrition Aid Program. Further, she sets up workshops, open to the general public, and counsels individual homemakers on the management of time, money, and energy.

Operating through the Extension Service of Mississippi State University, although paid in part by the county, the economist also advises on the best way to prepare, plan, and serve foods, as well as household food and budget management.

Originally the position was established to teach modern techniques in the areas of clothing and food preparation. Now the position's terms of reference include the complete requirements of modern living.

The Homemakers Clubs, in existence throughout the county, operate on the provision that the home is the center of the American way of life. To this end anything that can be done or learned to improve the home status and environment helps every member of that household.

Each club has its creed, centered around this outlook, and each has its own program of events and projects.

Let's start from scratch. Let's say you are interested in belonging to a homemakers group but are unable to locate one in your area. A call to the Extension Home Economist's office (some number as the County Agent, in Hancock County it's 467-4631) will put you in touch with the nearest group.

If there is none too close or the only one is grown a little too big, the home economist will encourage you to start another club. She will, of course, assist in organization and supply necessary materials.

Once formed the new club elects officers and one of these is a "program chairman" or leader. This person will attend training classes at the Agricultural Center and then, in turn, pass on this training to the other club members.

Apart from providing organizational leadership, leader training and continuing support, the home economist will personally attend such things as club hat shows, dress reviews, or special projects.

Six groups are currently in operation in Hancock so there is lots of room for more, when you have the home economist's office in Hancock County.

After contacting a pilot program in some other counties, the Extension Home Economist was selected to start a club in Hancock County.

W. A. Samuel, Area Director, was the principal leader at the demonstration held in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, last August. He was the one who started the club in Hancock County.

Air Rifle Shot Gives Near Fatal Wound

Three pre-teen age boys met at the home of one of them preparing to go on a fishing trip around four o'clock Monday afternoon.

In gathering up fishing tackle they fired an air rifle which used pellets a couple of times but nothing came out so it was assumed the rifle was unloaded.

One of the boys standing on the porch of his home pumped one stroke in the gun and pointing the gun toward the ground pulled the trigger. This time a presumably stuck pellet came out of the gun and struck Mike Goodsell, the 11-year old son of Police Chief and Mrs. Robert Goodsell, in the throat.

When bleeding started young Goodsell was taken to Hancock General Hospital and then transferred to Memorial Hospital in Gulfport. There it was found that the pellet ranged downward from the neck and lodged just above the heart.

After some 5 hours in surgery the pellet had been removed and Mike in a critical condition was placed in intensive care. By Wednesday afternoon although still in intensive care he was apparently on the road to recovery.

General Electric To Reduce Work Force

The General Electric Company today announced a reduction of its work force at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Mississippi Test Facility.

John R. Picard, general manager of the GE Management and Technical Services Department, announced that approximately 100 of the Department's 1,180 people will be affected by the manpower reduction which will occur throughout the month of August. He added that it may be necessary to add to this number sometime in the near future.

General Electric is prime contractor to NASA for range and base operations and for technical services in support of stage contractors, governmental and other users of the 142,000-acre test facility centered in Hancock County.

The reduction in jobs and employees is mandatory, Picard said, because of the decrease in operational support requirements at the NASA facility.

In a message to GE-MTSD employees, Picard said a continuing, "all-out" effort is being made to assist each affected employee in every way possible, including possible relocation in other operations of General Electric or in other businesses in the area.

"We are most reluctant to have to take this step," Picard said, "at a time when we are receiving national recognition for our part in the magnificent Apollo 11 exploration of the moon, but we have no other choice. We will continue, however, to aggressively pursue new business opportunities in this area, in Mississippi, and throughout the nation in an effort to ease the economic impact on the communities involved, and to maintain challenging and stabilized employment for our talented men and women."

Navigation Buoys Mark Channel In Bay

Three weeks ago a Corps of Engineers district investigator was here who was shown the area by Director Kidd. The investigator made a favorable report for installing another or more navigational aid buoys. Three such buoys were installed this week definitely marking the channel so there should be no hazard in entering the bay from the river.

State-Owned Timber Sales At High Point

The sale of timber from state-owned lands reached an all time high for the past 11 months, ending July 1, 1969. State Forester Wendell D. Lack reports that over one million dollars were received from timber sales on the state's public lands. The majority of these lands are made up of sixteenth section school lands which accounted for 957 thousand dollars in the county title. Income from sixteenth section timberlands are managed by the Mississippi Forestry Commission in agreement with County Boards of Supervisors in sixty counties.

The Hancock County school system shared in these funds.

ONE OF 388 units to be pre-fabricated and enameled at the Rittner Bay St. Louis is inspected by Robert P. Guilbault, executive vice president and Phillip Elstrott, superintendent. After completion the units will be sent to the King County Administration Building, Seattle, Washington.

Stephen Winnard Returns Home

Stephen Winnard returned home Friday from Sew-Tenn., where she completed a five-week session at the Summer Music Center. Winnard, a member of the completed 13th season Center, studied clarinet under James Livingston, principal clarinetist of the Louisville Orchestra. Her piano instructor, Daniel Hooper, is a recent graduate of the Juillard School of Music, and her theory instructor, Peter Horodysky is a member of the University of Louisville School of Music faculty.

Werner Torkanowsky, Music Director, New Orleans Philharmonic, was guest conductor for one week. While at Sewanee, Stephen was joined for the closing concert by her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. C.C. McDonald, who are at their summer home in Mont Eagle. Joining her for the last four days of the Music Festival were her mother Mrs. Otis Winnard, her brother, Milan, Mrs. David McDonald and her son Mac and daughter Marjorie.

For Women Only

Written in co-operation with YOUR COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE

Modern man has devised hundreds of labor saving devices in an effort to make the homemaker's life a little easier; not only with major inventions as no-frost refrigerators, and self-cleaning ovens, but with "simple" things such as micro-enzyme detergents, pre-soak detergents and no-iron sheets and clothing. It is no wonder that we housewives need a friend to "clue us in" on the new products.

The County Cooperative Extension Service was devised for this purpose. Miss Ruth Strahan, home economist, stands ready to advise homemakers of new products as well as household food and budget management. She has free pamphlets phase of homemaking from food preparation to repairing and remodeling the home.

"For Ladies Only" is designed to better acquaint the homemakers of Hancock County with the services offered by the Cooperative Extension Service. If you like our idea, why not drop a line to, For Ladies Only, Sea Coast Echo, P.O. Box 230, Bay St. Louis, Miss. 39520.

Supermarkets Sell More

Than Groceries
A grocery store sells more than groceries, and that's a real convenience and a good thing until we start counting all the money we spend in the grocery store as grocery or food money.

More than half of all the toothpaste, half of all the aspirin, and nearly half of all the shampoo sales in the United States are made in food stores. But they shouldn't be charged to the food budget.

A food budget that truly measured food purchases only would average about 18 percent of after-tax income. Very likely your total food bill is smaller than you think. It's those non-food items that run the total up.

Stop And Look At Your Spending

Do you have dollar trouble? Now is the time to look at where you are financially. Decide where you want to go and what your family goals are. Plan how you can achieve them. The recipe is plan your spending, control your spending and make your money buy what you want.

Need Help? Ask your Extension Home Economist for spending plan Form 235, a record-keeping Form 126 and "Managing Your Money," Publication 545.

Selective Food Shopping

Selective food shopping is a way that you can control food costs for your family. One type of selective shopping that cuts food cost is simply changing the form or type of a food. For example, you could switch from the higher cost food shopping list of fresh whole milk, boneless ham, orange juice, instant rice, ready-to-eat cereal and ground beef to a lower cost shopping list. The lower cost list includes non-fat dry milk, smoked picnic, frozen orange concentrate, regular rice, cooked cereal and hamburger. Check yourself to see if you are a smart, selective shopper. Do you:

- Keep track of regular food prices, so as to recognize specials.
- Watch ads and stock up on favorite foods when abundant and lower-priced.
- Figure cost per serving as well as cost-per-pound or per-unit purchased.

Try lesser-known brands to find acceptable quality at lower prices.

Realize that some convenience foods cost less, some more, than do-it-yourself foods. Know family nutritional needs, and the difference between needs and wants. Know the difference between the total supermarket bill and the food bill alone.

USM Sponsors Annual Cosmetology Seminar

The 12th annual Advanced Cosmetology Seminar, sponsored by the Mississippi Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, was held August 10-13 at the University of Southern Mississippi.

In attendance were 42 licensed cosmetologists from throughout the state. Consultants this year included Gen. Colvin of Columbus and Ross Richardson of Jackson.

Participants were introduced to the newest techniques, styles, and theories in hairdressing, plus attending lectures on the human relations aspect of cosmetology and on business management principles, both presented by members of the University faculty.

Among those attending was Sidney D. Woods of Bay St. Louis.

SIGNING ATTESTATION After administering in a public ceremony, the oath of office of President, Mississippi River Commission, to Major General Andrew P. Rollins, Jr., is Federal Judge Dan M. Russell, Jr. of Bay St. Louis.

Maj. Gen. Rollins To Head Commission

Major General Andrew P. Rollins, Jr., was nominated by President Nixon for President of the Mississippi River Commission and the nomination was confirmed by the Senate.

In addition General Rollins will serve concurrently as Division Engineer of the Corps of Engineers' Lower Mississippi Valley Division, with joint offices headquartered in Vicksburg, Miss. In his dual assignment, he will supervise Federal flood control, navigation, major drainage, and related water resources development projects on the Mississippi River and its tributaries located in Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Texas.

Will Test Children For Visual Problems

Amblyopia or lazy-eye blindness is a condition in which a child unconsciously gets used to seeing with only one eye. Because the child tries to free himself from seeing a confusing double image, he suppresses his weaker eye and uses only his stronger eye.

Crossed eyes and other vision defects may lead to amblyopia.

USM To Graduate Six From Hancock

Among the 778 candidates for degrees from the University of Southern Mississippi's summer commencement exercises August 16, are the following from Hancock County: Doris V. McCoy-Mieszynski, Waveland, Bachelor of Science; and from Bay St. Louis, Valorie Elaine Nybo, Master of Education; August Joseph Scalfidi, Jr., Bachelor of Science; Thomas A. Benigno, Edward Marlborough Heath III, Stephen Charles Kidd, Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

The exercises which are for the school's largest summer commencement begin at 7:30 P.M., in the Reed Green Coliseum and will be open to the public.

Lunches Provided For Students

Mrs. Ben Nettles of the Pearl Harbor Baptist Church, is chairman of a committee to provide lunches for students engaged in unearthing Indian artifacts at the Poverty Point Indian camp site at Mulatto Bayou.

Assisting her, all from Pearl Harbor, are Brenda Anderson and Mmes. Nell Smith, J.R. Toomer and H. E. Wilson. In describing their efforts, Professor Richard Marshall of Mississippi State University under whose direction the excavations are being undertaken, said he had never experienced such a degree of hospitality.

Children's Play Scores Hit At Little Theater

(A review by L'Inconnu)

More than 320 children the Bay St. Louis area flock-to the two matinee and two evening performances last week of the Children's Theater production, BEAUTY AND THE BEAST, at the Little Theater Boardman Avenue.

Suggested by Terry Malone it as a summertime experimental project to acquaint young children with the joys of the drama, the farces, fairytales, was so highly successful that some of the children who attended the first performance returned to see all three of the others. For many of them it was their first experience in seeing a story acted by real people on a stage, and since they were unimpressed by the presence of adults to keep them quiet, their enthusiasm literally knew no bounds. Particularly gratifying to the cast (although admittedly distracting) were the calls and comments of the children as the story unfolded, for audience participation must surely have been at an all-time high... as was the pleasure of the cast at such obvious delight.

Playwright M a r y-Kate Tews' adaptation of the story of the handsome prince, changed by magic into a hideous beast, was directed by Terry Malone and the cast was composed of high school and college students. Matt Ames, a student at Jeff Davis Junior College, and Pete Benvenutti, Jr., of Harvard University, Jr., of troubadours and introduced each of the four scenes with songs and a guitar, Jay Rosato

SWIMMING CLASSES

ward Pool. All children between the ages of six to 12 are invited to join.

Applicants who have com-ficates when registering.

of Pearl River Junior College played the role of the beast, and Beauty, whose love changed him back into a prince, was played by Julie Stack, a student at Bay High School. Mary Ellen Murphy, also of Bay High, was cast as the queen whose magic spells resulted in disaster for her son, Victor Frankiewicz, Jr., of St.
Stanislaus College, played the role of the elderly father of Beauty; and Martha Griffin, who will enter Mississippi State College for Women this fall, acted the part of Beauty's jealous sister.

Following each performance the children were invited by the director to come up onto the stage to have punch and cookies and to look about and ask questions of the cast. They were particularly interested in the settings, which depicted the castle of the queen and the cottage of the old man and his daughters, and in the crystal ball of the queen which glowed like real magic and caused spectacular lights to play about the stage.

The two settings for the play were constructed by the director, the cast, and Jules Lagarde, with special effects by Leo di Benedetto, Steve Martin, and Mike Flynn, and demonstrated that sets can be inexpensive and still highly effective. Lights were handled by Tony Com-pretra, properties by Holly Ames, make-up by Jeanette Johnson, and posters by Jules Lagarde.

It is the hope of the Little Theater that this experiment in children's theater can become a regular summer project to be scheduled as part of the Little Theater's contribution to this community. The board of directors feel that these first contacts with the theatrical world have stimulated an interest in many of the children which will enlarge their horizons and be of great pleasure to them in the future. In the opinion of this reviewer, the young people who gave such a large part of their summer to the production of this play deserve wholehearted commendation.

Of Local Interest

FREQUENTLY OF LATE we've wondered how we managed to write this column for so many years with out the assistance of H. Reid Frisbie. He has furnished us with no end of interesting clippings on a wide variety of subjects, and asked some questions which have led into several rewarding research projects.

HIS LATEST, brought about by an assignment to write an article publicizing the upcoming Hancock County Fair, was a query as to when the last such event took place in the area. As a relative newcomer to Bay St. Louis, he just assumed that this was an annual happening and was a bit puzzled when no mention of a fair appeared in Echoes of the past few years. If we weren't performing our weekly chore at home, searching for statistics would be no big thing. We'd simply spend some time examining back issues until we came up with the year in which the last county-wide exposition took place. However, such a project isn't feasible at the moment, so we'll have to rely more or less upon a somewhat dubious memory, and hazard a guess that it has been at least 25 years since Hancock County has put the best of the fruits of their labors upon public display.

WE RECALL WRITING an item in Bygone Days several years ago describing such attractions as a champion bull, prize-winning canned goods, handwork—knitting, crocheting, embroidery, etc., and even a showing of classroom work of students in local schools. This particular fair took place about 25 years ago, if we're not mistaken, and perhaps none of the above would appeal to the pleasure-jaded youth of today. However, we're certain that the 1969 project will be a show much more in tune with the time.

ONE OF the reasons we're so excited over the prospect of the county fair is that we've never attended one before. As a child the state fair was always a much anticipated occasion, mainly because it meant a holiday from school. One day of the week-long production was called Students' Day—a night-mare for teachers and parents as their small charges, usually costumed in crepe paper wired stiffly to resemble the petals and leaves of a variety of flowers, dutifully performed in a gigantic pageant in the early morning hours, then drove chapel robes with the remainder of the day. There were always tours of each pavilion and we still recall the early aroma of the animal stalls, then the welcome contrast of delectable odors emanating from the bakery booths. The adults longed to linger and admire what appeared to be the largest number of handmade apples—existence while youngsters yearned for the joys of the midway and the sticky sweetness of fluffy cotton candy, which usually accompanied the wilting paper flower petals. As darkness fell, everyone headed for the grandstands where one could blessedly rest while watching the harness races, which were always climaxed by a loud and brilliant fireworks display. These are just a few memories of a Tennessee State Fair of almost 40 years ago. We'd like to hear from local residents who recall what transpired at similar events right here in Hancock County. The contrast of then and now might make for some very interesting reading.

NOW BACK TO a more recent fair. We described St. Clare's annual benefit down to the most minute detail, but neglected to mention the most important news of all—names of prize winners. The lot, donated by Mollere Realty, was won by Eddie Smith of Kenner, the love seat by a Mr. MacDonald and the set of tires by George Fortune, both of New Orleans. Tommy Holzhauser is the lucky owner of the pony and Donna Hoefeld won the paint.

MILLIONAIRES NIGHT, the Krewe of Nereids latest brainchild, is at present the talk of the town. Saturday, Aug. 23, is the date and St. Clare's Parish hall, the place. Hundreds of members are busily rehearsing for their act in the floorshow and this alone should be well worth the $2 charge for admission.

VI BRADFORD has been sadly missed by her Waveland friends. She hasn't been able to spend the usual weekends at her Laurie Street home due to the fact that her mother has been ill. Her son Billy, who now holds the rank of Lt. J.G., U.S. Naval Reserve, has been stationed at the Naval Air Station Hospital in Millington, Tenn., just 20 miles outside of Memphis, since July 1st. He's taking advantage of the military duty to pick up wonderful experience in surgery and O.B. before returning for his third year at University Medical School in Jackson in September. For amusement he's been playing tennis and squash; swimming, going to movies and the like. Billy writes that Mike Ferry is also stationed at Millington and he sees him frequently, as he does Beth and Sidney Chevis when he's in Jackson. In fact, Sidney has been sending him the Echo during the summer months so he can keep up with what's going on around here during his absence.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM Ford celebrated their golden wedding anniversary from dawn to well after dark last Wednesday, Aug. 6. They renewed their vows at a mass at St. Clare's at 8 a.m., and both their best man and maid of honor were on hand for the ceremony. Their daughter Margaret Mary and husband Don Wilson had timed their visit from Panama to coincide with the memorable date, but the arrival of son Gerry and lovely wife Ellen from Long Island, came as a big surprise. Ellen and Gerry, who are famous via tv and magazines as heads of the Ford Modeling Agency, flew in from Europe arriving just in time to join in the celebration. The wedding party breakfasted at Ramada Inn and wound up festivities by dining and dancing at the Broadwater Beach Hotel.

TONY PIAZZA claims some sort of record in the tonsorial field. Master Charles A. Breath, IV, became the fifth generation member of his family to receive his first haircut from Tony. The initial clipping took place last week after his father returned from duty in Vietnam. His mother Ellen calmly ignored all comments about the length of her son's locks, waiting for Chuck's arrival before one hair was snipped. Tony says this makes the third time he's given a fifth generation male of a local family his initial shearing. Once before in the Breath family, and once in the Cox family.

HOWARD SMITH is due a happy birthday wish having celebrated on Friday, Aug. 8,

Of interest to many Gulf Coast friends was the marriage to St. Louis Cathedral last Saturday of Miss Mary Elizabeth Drown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gracey Brown of Metairie, to Mr. Charles Dorn Meacham of New Orleans. The bride is the great-niece of the late Mrs. Rene de Montluzin, Sr. of this city and the granddaughter of the late Mrs. Emile Dubuc, a former resident of Bay St. Louis. Her cousin, Miss Lorraine de Montluzin, served as one of the bridesmaids at the wedding. The young couple will reside in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

MRS. EVA LA FONTAINE cut her cake the day before, on Thursday, Aug. 7.

BEC LADNER was 21, or thereabouts, on Saturday, Aug. 9th.

LOTTIE (MRS. GARFIELD) Ladner received a large number of lovely gifts on her birthday, Wednesday, Aug. 13.

GREG THOMAS, who thoroughly enjoyed the 30 day leave spent with his parents Dorothy and Bud, sisters Mary and Debbie and younger brother Mark, left Monday for England AFB in Alexandria, La.

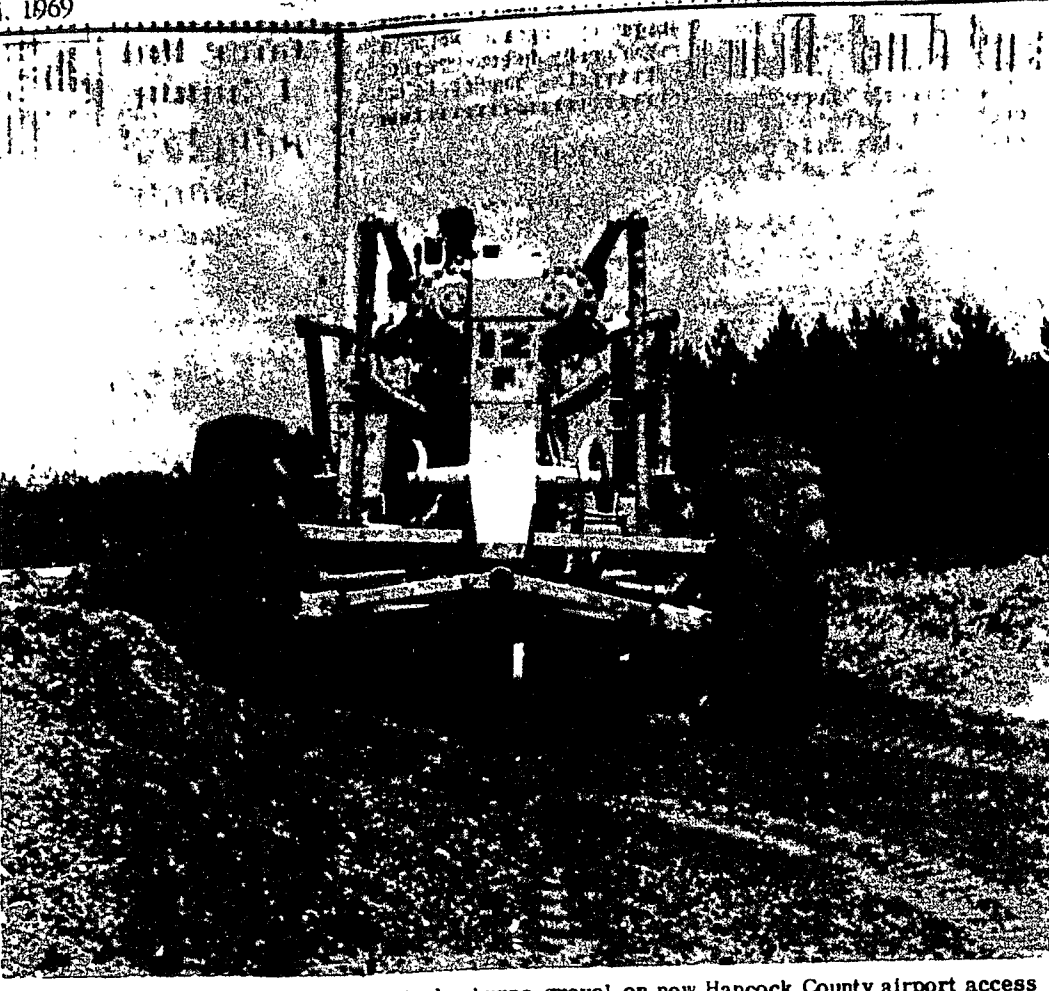

ASSISTANT REPORTER Richard Call reports that there was much excitement around the Admiral Benbow Inn last week when the ever popular Jack Benny dropped in for an unplanned vacation.

GENNY GONDINGTON and three of her seven children, Judy, Ginger and Mitch of Laurinburg, N.C., are visiting her sisters Bessie (Mrs. Jimmy) De Blanc and Mildred (Sis) Means. Genny's husband Tom remained in North Carolina to get in a bit of fishing during his family's absence.

KATHLEEN WHITMAN arrived at International Airport Sunday and was warmly welcomed by her parents Caroline and Paul and her seven brothers and sisters. Kathleen spent the past two months in Kansas City, Mo., where she visited Caroline's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Horton.

INCIDENTALLY, Caroline and Paul will observe their 17th wedding anniversary on Saturday, Aug. 16. Don't know just how they plan to observe the occasion, but they'll have to come up with something spectacular to equal their antics upon the same date 17 years ago. The newlyweds said their vows at a large formal ceremony, then shortly thereafter, discarded satin and full dress attire for blue jeans and the bridal party mounted horses and spent the remainder of the day happily riding in the Kansas countryside.

Shower Honors Bride-Elect

A miscellaneous bridal shower was given Saturday evening by Miss Joy Harvill at her home honoring Miss Roberts Hode.

A blue and white color scheme was used in the decorations. The refreshment table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered with a cake topped by a miniature bride and groom with tapers on either side.

The honoree, who chose a blue tulle dress trimmed in white, was presented a corsage of red sweetheart roses and miniature bells.

Miss Hode and James Smith Harvill Jr. were married Sunday afternoon in First Baptist Church.

Guests were Mesdames Lones Hode, Cynthia Lizana, J.P. Favre, Joe Perniclaro, Floyd Wiltz, Charles Bernard, Laura Privette, W. J. Came-

Celebrates Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Favre, Jr., celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary Wednesday, July 30th. They cut their cake, a three tier decorated appropriately and topped with a tin can noting the symbol of their anniversary, and shared it with the members of the Trapani's Softball team at Trapani's Knock Knock.

New System To Aid The Deaf And Blind

Bel System is working on a new communication device which will enable the deaf-blind and the deaf to "see" conversations.

The device, called Code-Com, is under development by telephone Laboratories Eastern Electric, according to D. H. Presley, local Central Bell manager.

Under development are a control handset for the deaf-hearing and a coin telephone console for persons confined to wheelchairs, Mr. Presley said.

And persons with normal hearing can use the phone at either normal volume or amplified for noisy booth locations, he added.

The coin telephone console for people in wheelchairs uses the same parts of a standard single slot coin telephone except for a special coin insert and coin return, Presley said.

The console's slanted shelf provides leg room for an individual in a wheelchair, but is also designed for standing persons, he said.

The plastic signaling gong for the hard-of-hearing is square, about the size of a box of toothpicks, and produces a high-speed pecking sound, Presley said.

The gong accentuates low-frequency signals which are more easily detected by people with impaired hearing, he said.

Presley said a Code-Com converts signals that travel over telephone lines into touch and flashing light.

Pre-arranged codes on the caller on his end telephone line cause a plastic-coated disc on Code-Com set to vibrate, this allows the deaf-blind to feel the message," he said.

The set also has a light which, allowing a deaf person to read incoming messages," he added.

VI (MRS. CHESTER) MOORE, Linda and their dog Tiger, drove into the yard of their Coleman Avenue home late Friday afternoon after vacationing since their departure on June 9th. VI says that they enjoyed each of the 4,000 miles they covered via automobile, but doesn't feel that she wants to do any more driving for at least a month. They were guests of VI's sister Katherine Punc in Denver, Col. where they viewed surroundings from Pike's Peak. Our travelers also drove to even loftier Mt. Evans and crossed the Continental Divide. VI spent part of her vacation taking a most enlightening art course at the University of Colorado; and they took the long way home stopping at Carlsbad Caverns, picked mushrooms in more mountains, visited Six Flags in Dallas where VI spent some time with a former Washington, D. C., roommate Mary Brown. Linda bumped into a group of fellow New Orleans students at Six Flags, much to her surprise. They also toured a reservation in Taos, New Mexico where the Indians lived as primitively as they did thousands of years ago; and VI brought home 50 pounds of clay which she'll put to good use in her Sensitive Ceramics shop. Of course, as much as they enjoyed the trip, they confessed to being more than just a little glad to be home once again.

JEAN AND DONALD Camp and his parents Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Camp of Alexandria, La. were Phyl and Jimmy Lagasse's weekend guests.

MYSTERY OF THE WEEK - Who is the handsome gentleman who popped in from afar to surprise Sara Thorning, better known as 'Mac' by his appearance at the St. Clare's Church Fair?

MAC HAD as weekend guests her daughter Josie and husband Sal di Vincenti; grandson, Sal, Jr., granddaughter Rosemarie, her husband Manfred By and their daughter Rae Ann, who just happens to be the world's most beautiful baby, according to her doting great-grandmother. By the way, Sara, or 'Mac' if you prefer, reports that her brother Noel Menzio who is very well known hereabouts is much better after spending 16 days in an oxygen tent in a Crescent City hospital.

FRANCES AND JACK Herald spent the weekend in their Waveland summer home. The Herald's are all excited over the fact that their daughter and son-in-law are awaiting the arrival of their first child almost any day now.

ETHEL AND RALPH Daugherty had as weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Rodriguez and children Terry and Michele and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fritsch. Mr. Fritsch is now feeling quite well again having recuperated from a long illness.

ROBERT LADNER gets a hope you're feeling better wish having been hospitalized after suffering a recent heart attack. GOOD NEWS - George Wademeier is once again making the Coleman Avenue scene and he's looking so hale and hearty that it's almost impossible to realize that he was only recently allowed to take only a very few steps. He appears so youthful that we're wondering if he succeeded in the search which stymied Ponco de Leon many years ago!

Thursday which he promptly consumed at his evening meal. GRIPE CORNER - One of the most hazardous intersections anywhere - the blind corner at Main and St. Francis was almost responsible for a serious accident last Wednesday. Mrs. Jim McCarthy of Chantilly Terrace and her three children narrowly escaped injury in the near mishap. Not much can be done about the building which obscures vision on the south corner, but customers of the A. and J. Food Store could help by taking advantage of the large parking lot which Joe Lotacano graciously had constructed for that purpose. When automobiles are parked on narrow Main Street it's impossible to see whether or not traffic is approaching from the direction of the beachfront. A stop light at this perilous spot might also be helpful.

WHILE AIRING gripes we might add that the fence and no dumping signs on Railroad Avenue near Chantilly have done little to discourage those who continue to use the spot as a garbage disposal. Everyone knows this law violation is punishable by a substantial fine, but we know of no case in which this statute has been enforced.

NORTON HAAS, JR., better known as Sonny, was rushed to Ochsner last week suffering from a slipped disc. He's now in traction at his home.

HOLLAND (MRS. TOM) Garner had a most painfully infected finger last week. Unfortunately the 'bobo' was on her bridge playing right hand.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS A- LONG THE WAY - Sunbather teenagers running madly about during a lively game of touch football, oblivious of the blazing heat of the noonday sun; beautiful, smooth blacktopping at last covering a large portion of Beach Boulevard; towering sand castles crumbling as the tide comes in and the soothing sound of waves lapping gently against the few remaining pier pilings.

Most sportsmen will turn their thoughts to hunting as the season on doves will open on September 13 with a bag limit of 18 and squirrels and rabbits, etc., will follow. We have some good hunting grounds in Hancock County as well as in the whole state of Mississippi.Each year our boys and girls reach the age of hunting. Let's all us old time hunters teach them the way to use guns, stick to the game limits and protect other people's property. Don't go into a field unless you have permission.
You will be able to go again.
Our farmers and land owners will go a long way in letting you hunt on their property. Let's show our appreciation. The bag limits are enough, why not stay within them? Preserving game is an ideal policy.On the fishing side things are about normal with both salt and fresh water fish being caught. Floundering is good and some soft crabs are still being picked up.Horace Farr, an old timer at catching speckles, along the railroad bridge caught some big speckles. He was using live crankbaits. He said that dog sharks and stingrays gave him a bad time. Both are a pain this time of the year.Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brewton have moved here from Florida. They are catching their share of fish. Bill admitted fishing here is tops. Welcome to our shores, folks.Billy Ladner has returned after a stay of two weeks with the National Guard. Billy loves his fishing. Maybe we can make that trip partner.Roger Seligman is a hard guy to catch when you want to play golf. Roger loves to play golf and is usually out on the course.H. (Buddy) Engelhorn was down from Baton Rouge visiting his father Eddie Engelhorn.
Buddy is a sergeant in the detective bureau with the City Police. He loves to fish and on off duty is hard to find.Mrs. Genevieve Covington from Lauringburg, North Carolina is visiting her brother Dick Mestayer and family. Ginny as she is called plays a wicked game of golf and is not a bad fisherman either. Thanks for playing with us, Ginny.Understand that Robert Pritchett who has a home in Jordan River Isles does his share of fishing in Jordan River. Bob gets his string of fish most always.Haven't checked, but understand that Bayou Lacouture has been blocked with a board fence.
According to law no stream that is navigable and has a falling and rising tide can be blocked, dammed or closed. This stream is ideal for fly fishing, casting and catching fresh water fish by pole fishing. Think it is a job for the Hancock County Gun and Rod Club, the Game Warden or the Fish and Game Commission to find out why this stream has been blocked. It was a haven for local fishermen. It is bad enough for our fishermen to put up with skulkers in Jordan River besides having our streams closed. Let's do something about it.Melanie Enterante, 3-years of age, made her first soft crabbing trip the other night.
She spotted some crabs which were picked up by her dad.
Never too old or too young to learn.Luke Elliott and August Pan-xet made a nice catch of green trout over the weekend. They caught the limit while fly fishing. Luke wound up playing golf.Dick Mestayer, his son and nephew also caught some fresh water fish out Pearl River way.
Dick said they were striding pretty good.Heard about the fisherman who cut his drinking in half - by omitting water chasers.When you go fishing, catch no fish, and are down in the mouth, remember that Jonah came out all right.Fly fishing is an art. Practice in your back yard. It's better than hooking a limb or bush on every cast.One of our best soft crabbers is Mrs. Donald Coffey, better known as June Breath.
June goes all out when it comes to crabbing. She loves it and gets her share of those delicacies. Donald says he can't spot 'em.Don't hear much a b o u t Junior Breath catching too many fish. Taking a lay off, Buddy?Tut Monti says he is waiting for his buddies to take him fishing. Must have only the habit eh, Tut.Parchman will be a busy place when the dove season opens. Besides plenty prisoners there are plenty doves there.Jerome Carver has given up fly fishing. Bet he will start again when it gets cooler. How about that, Buddy, Old Sol is still pretty hot.Kenneth McCarthy is looking forward to his retirement. Fish and game had better look out.
He'll be after them.Eddie Marquez is like a de-butante, he stays in all day and out all night. Floundering is his favorite pastime.The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission has set the seasons and bag limits for resident game. This action took place at the regular monthly public meeting of the commission in New Orleans.Quail Nov. 27 - Feb. 28.

LIVERY OF HIS NEW 30 SERIES CHEVROLET TRUCK FROM SALESMAN JOE PALAZZO OF LAMAR-LANE CHEVROLET IN BAY ST. LOUIS.Mr. S. T. Cooper because of previous dealings with Lamar-Lane Chevrolet felt it to his advantage to return there and buy his new truck, he didn't even get prices from any other dealership because he has confidence in Lamar-Lane Chevrolet. He told Joe Palazzo that he wanted to purchase a new 30 Series Chevrolet Truck and he knew that the price he got would be the best available to him from any dealership. He also knows that Lamar-Lane Chevrolet's service department are experts in the repairs of large trucks if the need ever occurs, all of Lamar-Lane Chevrolet service personnel are factory trained and experts in their fields.
Take it from someone that knows, Lamar-Lane Chevrolet gives the best value on new trucks and cars, if you're in the market for a new truck or car, visit Lamar-Lane Chevrolet and you'll see for yourself. We could save you many dollars.
